THE EVOLUTION OF OFFICE INK
A BPO MEDIA INFOGRAPHIC

1998 — First HP Business Inkjet introduced: HP 2000C

Xerox acquires Tektronix Phaser solid ink technology

2000 — HP 2200 is positioned as color laser alternative

2002 — HP cp1160 features laser-like design and function

Canon rolls out N1000 and N2000 office-class inkjets

2004 — HP intros Business Inkjet 3000 built for affordable office color

Brother line-head technology surfaces in demo form

HP introduces Scalable Printing Technology (SPT)

2006 — HP introduces Edgeline MFPs with page-wide array

Memjet demos page-wide imaging technology

2008 — Epson lB-300 and B-500 Business Inkjets

Xerox A3-size solid ink-based MFPs: C9200 series

2010 — Memjet announces partners and products

HP targets low-end laser with Officejet Pro 8600

2012 — HP Officejet Pro X: first PWA-based A4-size machines

Brother debuts 100 ppm HL-S7000DN mono inkjet printer

2014 — HP Officejet Enterprise Color Machines

Epson WorkForce Pro 8000 Series and RIPS System

2016 — HP PageWide Enterprise/A3 devices announced

2018 — Epson announces 100 ppm WorkForce Enterprise WF-C20590